Survey results revealed that alumni have a deep connection to the campus.

UCLA Volunteer Day

- Karen McClain, Senior Director, Athletic Partnership & Strategic Initiatives, provided background on the Volunteer Center and gave an overview of signature programs.
- The 10th Annual UCLA Volunteer Day engaged more than 2,600 volunteers managing 47 local sites and 23 partner sites including global locations. Participants included students, alumni, staff and faculty who had the option to choose based on categories of interest. Discussion included exploring opportunities for network involvement, campus partnerships, and corporate sponsorships (particularly companies with volunteer community stipends).
- The Volunteer Center’s goals include the integration of volunteer services to all alumni programming and to strengthen relationships with campus community partners such as the Office of Residential Life and the Center for Community Learning.

Enrollment Management

- Youlanda Copeland Morgan, Vice Provost, Enrollment Management, presented on the current trends of enrollment management. She shared enhancements to the recruitment process such as the use of geodemographic search tools that identify students with a strong academic profile. In response to proposition 209, race and gender categories are removed from the admission readers and is used to demonstrate compliance.
- Copeland Morgan shared Enrollment Management’s new innovative college prep campaign for youth, ‘I Get Credit For’, that helps students to understand the variety of majors to pursue their interests and passion. The community service project is a text-based campaign targeting students from 8th to 12th grade.
- Copeland Morgan asked the board to review the current scholarships process keeping in mind 1) the time constraints high school students face, 2) the repetitiveness of data collection and 3) ways of communication.

Executive Committee

- President Lott introduced the Executive Committee’s proposal to restate the Bylaws by summarizing objectives: streamlining and eliminating redundancies to make document easier to use, reviewing for consistencies among various provisions, and updating to incorporate best practices. President Lott introduced David Newman, outside counsel for The UCLA Foundation, who added that the proposed restated Bylaws aligns with UC policy and integration with campus administration. Newman proceeded to highlight the primary areas affected by the proposed changes in the restated bylaws, as outlined in the “issues summary chart” that accompanied the proposal. A discussion ensued.
- President Lott asked for a motion to move the proposed changes. Motion made, then seconded. A discussion ensued on proposed amendments. A proposed amendment to the revised Article II, Section 2 was made to not have less than 5 members and no more than 29 members. Amendment change seconded. A discussion ensued. President Lott called for a vote: 11 in favor, 2 opposed and 1 abstention. Amendment passed.
President Lott proposed to amend the revision to Article III, Section 2 by removing the proposed requirement of past or current service on the particular committee being consider for committee chair service. Motion made, seconded and approved unanimously. A motion made to amend that any committee with co-chairs may have staggered terms. Seconded and approved unanimously. President Lott called for a vote on proposal as amended. Unanimously passed.
